More stories at WordBlanks.com

Casper Spellings, The Animal Kid

1. Animal Noun _____
2. Animal Noun _____
3. Animal Noun _____
4. Animal Noun _____
5. Animal Noun _____
6. Clothing Noun _____
7. Clothing Noun _____
8. Animal Noun _____
9. Clothing Noun _____
10. Animal Noun _____
11. Clothing Noun _____
12. Animal Noun _____
13. Proper Person Noun _____
14. Proper Person Noun _____
15. Place Noun _____
16. Noun _____
17. Noun _____
18. Proper Person Noun _____
19. Proper Person Noun _____
20. Proper Person Noun _____
21. Place Noun _____
22. Clothing Noun _____
23. Clothing Noun _____

Casper Spellings, The Animal Kid

Casper Spellings was a kid unlike any other kid. He had a pet _____Animal noun_____ that liked to sleep in NOUN PLACE, a _____Animal noun_____ named PERSON, the tiniest _____Animal noun_____ you've ever seen, and a big, lazy _____Animal noun_____ that ate _____clothing noun_____ NOUN for breakfast.

Yes, Casper Spellings was what we call an animal person. In fact, he was SO much an animal person that he wore CLOTHING _____clothing noun_____ with _____Animal noun_____ on them, _____clothing noun_____ NOUN with _____Animal noun_____ on them, and _____clothing noun_____ NOUN with _____Animal noun_____ on them.

Whenever Casper went walking by, people stopped and stared. PROPER _____Proper person noun_____ NOUN would say, "There goes the animal boy!" PROPER _____Proper person noun_____ NOUN would say, "Oh, look, it's Casper the Cat, Koala, Kangaroo, and every other animal lover!

Casper didn't mind. He loved animals and he didn't mind everyone know it. That is, until he got to second grade at PROPER SCHOOL _____place noun_____. His classmates there decided that it wasn't cool to love animals so much. So, they made fun of him.

Casper felt sad. He hid beside THING _____Noun_____, underneath THING _____Noun_____, and even in PLACE NOUN.

But nothing made him feel better. Then, one day, he had an idea.

The next day, there were colorful invitations on everyone's desks, even _____Proper person noun_____ PERSON and _____Proper person noun_____ PERSON's desks, the meanest kids in the class. They opened there envelopes carefully. They had been invited for a special show at _____place noun_____ PLACE the next day at 4pm! What could it mean?

The next day at 4pm all the kids from the third grade class gathered at the chosen spot. All they could see was a large red and white striped tent. Suddenly, Casper appeared, dressed in all in black, even his _____clothing noun_____ NOUN and _____clothing noun_____ NOUN were black!

"Let the circus begin!" Casper yelled! The third graders watched in amazement as Casper led all his pets out from the tent. They watched for two hours as the animals performed different tricks and stunts. The kids were speechless.

After the day at the Casper's circus, no one ever made fun of Casper again for loving animals. In fact, they loved animals now, too.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.