More stories at WordBlanks.com

Tommy, a Phone, and a Car

1. Verb _____
2. Proper Noun _____
3. Noun _____
4. Noun _____
5. Noun _____
6. Verb - Past Tense _____
7. Noun _____
8. Verb - Present Tense _____
9. Noun _____
10. Noun - Plural _____
11. _____

Tommy, a Phone, and a Car

The sun was beginning to _____Verb_____ as Tommy exited the newly built _____Proper Noun_____ . He had just purchased the latest and greatest cell phone on the market. The new _____Noun_____ was like no other. Wanting to show it off to his _____Noun_____, Tommy hurried to his _____Noun_____. Although the store employee had told him to wait until he got home to explore the phone, Tommy _____Verb - Past Tense_____ it on as he put the _____Noun_____ in the ignition. The employee, a strong supporter of no texting while _____Verb - Present Tense_____, had emphasized some facts like "at any given time in the U.S. approximately 660,000 drivers are using a cell phone or some other electronic devise while driving" or, "texting drivers took their eyes off the road for 4.6 seconds each text, which at 55 mph is the length of a _____Noun_____ field". These warnings already went in one ear and out the other as Tommy began to pull out of the parking lot.

It was a short drive to his home and Tommy had driven the roads a _____Noun - Plural_____ of times. He felt no need to has his full attention on the road as he worked through the trivial settings his phone. Tommy didn't notice that he had been drifting in and out of on coming traffic and had cause an accident a mile back. As he entered his neighborhood, his phone was still the main focus. Tommy hit a garbage can, a boys basketball that had bounced in the street, and a cat on the last leg to his house. All of which felt like the normal bumps and pot holes in the road. Tommy pulled into his drive way at the end of the street and put the car in park. Unaware of anything, Tommy entered his house just as he finished programing his phone. If only he had listened to store employee when he said that a phone slows a driver 's reaction time as much a blood-alcohol concentration of 0.08 percent.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.