More stories at WordBlanks.com

Tommy, a Phone, and a Car

1. Verb _____
2. Proper Noun _____
3. Proper Noun _____
4. Noun _____
5. Noun _____
6. Verb - Present Ends In Ing _____
7. Noun _____
8. Noun _____
9. Noun _____
10. Verb - Past Tense _____
11. Verb - Present Ends In Ing _____
12. Noun _____
13. Noun _____
14. Noun _____
15. Noun _____
16. Noun - Plural _____
17. Noun _____
18. Verb - Present Tense _____

Tommy, a Phone, and a Car

The sun was beginning to _____Verb_____ as Tommy exited the newly built _____Proper Noun_____. He had just purchased the latest and greatest cell phone on the market. The new _____Proper Noun_____ was like no other. Wanting to show it off to his family, Tommy hurried to his car. Although the store _____Noun_____ had told him to wait until he got home to explore the phone, Tommy turned it on as he put the _____Noun_____ in the ignition. The employee, a strong supporter of no texting while _____Verb - Present ends in ING_____, had emphasized some facts like "at any given time in the U.S. approximately 660,000 drivers are using a cell phone or some other electronic devise while driving" or, "texting drivers took their eyes off the road for 4.6 seconds each text, which at 55 mph is the length of a _____Noun_____ field". These warnings had already gone in one _____Noun_____ and out the other as Tommy began to pull out of the parking lot.

It was a short drive to his _____Noun_____ and Tommy had driven the roads thousands of times. He felt no need to have his full attention on the road as he _____Verb - Past Tense_____ through the trivial settings on his phone. Tommy didn't notice that he had been _____Verb - Present ends in ING_____ in and out of on coming traffic and had cause an _____Noun_____ a mile back. As he entered his neighborhood, his phone was still his main focus. Tommy hit a _____Noun_____ can, a boys _____Noun_____ that had bounced in the street, and a _____Noun_____ on the last leg to his house. All of which felt like the normal _____Noun - Plural_____ and pot holes in the road. Tommy pulled into his drive way at the end of the street and put the car in _____Noun_____. Unaware of anything, Tommy entered his house just as he finished _____Verb - Present Tense_____ his phone. If only he had listened to the store employee when he said that a phone slows a driver 's reaction time as much a blood-alcohol concentration of 0.08 percent.

THE END

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.