Little Red Riding Hood

Once upon a time there was a sweet little Noun . Everyone who saw her Past tense verb her, but most of all her grandmother, who did not know what to give the child next. Once she gave her a little Noun with a hood made of red velvet. Because it suited her so well, and she wanted to Verb it all the time, she came to be known as Little Red Riding Noun .

One day her mother said to her, "Come Little Red Riding Hood. Here is a piece of Noun and a Noun of wine. Take them to your grandmother. She is sick and Adjective and they will do her well. Mind your manners and give her my greetings. Verb yourself on the way, and do not leave the path, or you might fall down and Verb the glass, and then there will be nothing for your Adjective grandmother.";

Little Red Riding Hood promised to obey her Noun . The grandmother lived out in the woods, a half hour from the village. When Little Red Riding Hood entered the woods a Noun came up to her. She did not know what a Adjective Noun he was, and was not afraid of him.

"Good day to you, Little Red Riding Hood.";

"Thank you, Noun;"

"Where are you going so early, Adjective Red Riding Hood?";

"To grandmother's.";

"And what are you carrying under your Noun;"

"Grandmother is Adjective and weak, and I am taking her some cake and wine. We Past tense verb yesterday, and they should give her strength.";

"Little Red Riding Hood, just where does your grandmother live?";

"Her Noun is a good quarter hour from here in the woods, under the three large oak Plural noun .

There's a hedge of Adjective bushes there. You must know the place,"; said Little Red Riding Hood.

The wolf thought to himself, "Now there is a tasty bite for me. Just how are you going to catch her?"; Then he said, "Listen, Adjective Red Riding Noun haven't you seen the beautiful Plural noun that are blossoming in the woods? Why don't you go and take a look? And I don't believe you can hear how Adverb the birds are singing. You are walking along as though you were on your way to school in the Noun . It is very beautiful in the woods.";

Little Red Riding Hood opened her eyes and saw the sunlight breaking through the trees and how the _____ Noun was covered with _____ Adjective flowers. She thought, "If I take a bouquet to grandmother, she will be very pleased. Anyway, it is still early, and I'll be home on time."; And she ran off into the woods looking for _____ Plural noun. Each time she _____ Past tense verb one she thought that she could see an even more _____ Adjective one a little way off, and she ran after it, going further and further into the woods. But the wolf ran straight to the grandmother's _____ Noun and _____ Past tense verb on the door.

"Who's there?";

"Little _____ Adjective _____ Verb ending in ing Hood. I'm bringing you some cake and wine. Open the door for me.";

"Just press the latch,"; called out the grandmother. "I'm too weak to get up.";

The wolf pressed the latch, and the door Past tense verb. He stepped inside, went straight to the grandmother's Noun and ate her up. Then he took her Plural noun put them on, and put her cap on his head. He got into her bed and pulled the curtains shut.

Little Red Riding Hood had Verb after Plural noun and did not continue on her way to grandmother's until she had gathered all that she could carry. When she arrived, she found, to her surprise, that the door was open. She walked into the Noun and everything looked so Adjective that she thought, "Oh, my Goodness, why am I so afraid? I usually like it at grandmother's."; Then she went to the bed and Past tense verb back the curtains. Grandmother was lying there with her Noun pulled down over her face and looking very Adjective.

"Oh, grandmother, what big Plural noun you have!";

"All the better to Verb you with.";

"Oh, grandmother, what big Plural noun you have!";

"All the better to Verb you with.";

"Oh, grandmother, what big Plural noun you have!";

"All the better to Verb you with!";

"Oh, grandmother, what a horribly big Noun you have!";

"All the better to Verb you with!"; And with that he Past tense verb out of bed, jumped on top of poor Little Red Riding Noun and ate her up. As soon as the wolf had finished this tasty bite, he climbed back into bed, fell asleep, and began to Verb very loudly.

A huntsman was just passing by. He thought it strange that the old woman was snoring so loudly, so he Past tense verb to take a Verb. He stepped inside, and in the Noun there lay the wolf that he had been hunting for such a long time. "He has eaten the grandmother, but perhaps she still can be saved. I won't Verb him,"; thought the huntsman. So he took a pair of Plural noun and cut open his belly.

He had cut only a few strokes when he saw the red Noun shining through. He cut a little more, and the girl Past tense verb out and cried, "Oh, I was so frightened! It was so dark inside the wolf's body!";

And then the grandmother came out alive as well. Then Little Red Riding Hood fetched some large heavy Plural noun. They filled the wolf's body with them, and when he woke up and tried to Verb away, the stones were so heavy that he Past tense verb down dead.

The three of them were happy. The Noun took the wolf's pelt. The grandmother ate the cake and Past tense verb the wine that Adjective Red Riding Hood had brought. And Little Red Riding Hood thought to herself, "As long as I live, I will never _____ by myself if mother tells me not to.
