Dear _____What you like to call your parents_____:

It's a _____A type of weather ending with Y such as sunny rainy etc_____ day today, and I was considering playing some

_____Choose - indoor or outdoor_____ _____A sport_____ but then our Headmistress, Mrs _____Last name of your best friend_____, gave me detention for sneaking my pet _____An animal_____, _____Name of your best friend_____ into _____A subject_____ class today. I think that the blame should go to her the most, for having such sharp eyes!

You might think it's _____Adjective_____ at _____Your chosen colour_____ _____Your chosen plant_____ Heights, but it actually is _____A word describing how bad something is_____! All the girls are snobby and the boys are rude, although there's one

_____The opposite gender of you - boy or girl_____ that I quite like whose name is _____A name of someone opposite gender of you_____

_____A last name_____. And I think that they're very interested in me as well!

It's a good thing that this is modern-age boarding school, because the rules are already very strict, and I simply won't stand it if it was an oldern-age boaring school. Anyway, I made a new friend called _____The name of your pet_____. We were playing hockey, and I was about to be hit by the stick when _____The name of your pet_____ pushed me aside.

I really miss home. How is _____Name of a little brother_____ and _____Name of a little sister_____? I sure hope they're doing great. Besides that, we're having our first outdoors camping trip on _____A day of the week_____. Isn't that the same day as Mom's birthday? Don't worry, I didn't forget it. And I'll try to be home by then to make you a special birthday _____A type of food_____!

I must be going, because Mr _____Last name of your teacher_____ is going to start maths class any minute now. I miss you !
