Seventh-Grade Love (Part Two)

As soon as _____Main boy name_____ and _____Main girl name_____ jumped into the water, the biggest water fight of the century began. _____Main boy name_____ flipped a small tidal wave at _____Main girl name_____, who screamed and dodged. _____Main boy name_____ grinned at his victory, but his smile froze in place and was replaced by a loud cry, followed by laughter, when _____Main girl name_____ pushed him into the water.

_____Main girl name_____ could never imagine anything better than what she was doing right now with _____Main boy name_____. And, her worries about _____Main boy name_____ liking _____Mean girl name_____ faded away. _____Main boy name_____, so far, never looked anywhere near _____Main girl name_____ since the party started!

Suddenly, _____Main girl name_____ noticed that _____Main boy name_____ was gone. Where was he?

_____Main girl name_____ realized one second too late. She was ambushed! _____Main boy name_____ went under the water, and pulled _____Main girl name_____ down underwater by her legs - not even leaving _____Main girl name_____ time to take a breath, or scream!

_____Main girl name_____ tried to tackle _____Main boy name_____, but it was impossible to do so underwater, and her legs felt warm and gooey all over, especially where _____Main boy name_____ had touched her.

When

_____Main girl name_____ and _____Main boy name_____ broke through the water surface, they were laughing more than they had ever laughed in their lives. "This is just amazing," _____Main girl name_____ said between breaths. "I want to do this all night!"

"Yeah, and we can live here or something, and feed on seafood," _____Main boy name_____ agreed.

Suddenly, _____Main girl name_____ realized that his cheeks were red. When _____Main girl name_____ reached up to feel her own, they were burning, too, despite the cold water and the cool breeze brushing against their faces.

"Let's go into the deeper area," _____Main boy name_____ suggested, smiling at _____Main girl name_____.

_____Main girl name_____ nodded, but she was more focused on his smile. _____Main boy name_____ looked much more cuter!

They paddled to a slightly deeper area but, surprisingly, it was much calmer and quiet than the shore. Boy, was it beautiful! The sea was sparkling. Literally, sparkling! And it seemed...purple? So did the sky! The stars twinkled , and the sound of the gentle lapping waves accompanied them. _____Main girl name_____ had to pinch herself to know whether it was a dream or not. It looked the slightest bit misty, and it was the most beautiful sight that _____Main girl name_____ had ever seen. And it was a little romantic, too...

"You know," _____Main boy name_____ admitted, "I don't feel much like splashing around here anymore. We should find a rock and just sit here and watch the scenery. Y'know?"

_____Main girl name_____ felt her cheeks heating up again. She felt a strong surge of energy to tell _____Main boy name_____ how she felt, because she was nearly one-hundred percent confident, then. Confident that the one _____Main boy name_____ liked was her.

They found a nice, smooth rock, and they watched the scenery for a bit.

"You know," _____Main boy name_____ started to say again, "I...I don't think I'd be feeling what I'm feeling right now if I came here with _____Random boy name_____ or _____Another random boy name_____ instead of you. Maybe...maybe...never mind. You know."

_____Main girl name_____ DID know. She knew what James was feeling.

It was the same feeling she had for _____Main boy name_____.

The gentle breeze brushed past _____Main girl name with s at the end_____ cheeks gently.

Suddenly,

_____Main girl name_____ saw something glimmer under the rocks. She cautiously reached towards it, and took it out.

It was the most beautiful shell she had ever seen! It was of all different shades of _____Favourite colour_____, and it had a sort of swirling pattern on it. _____Main girl name_____ gasped.

"It's so beautiful!" she whispered. "_____Main boy name_____, hurry up and look at this!"

Suddenly, an arm was wrapped around _____Main girl name with s at the end_____ shoulders. It was _____Main boy name_____. His other hand held onto _____Main girl name with s at the end_____ chin, and _____Main girl name_____ was sure her heart skipped two beats when _____Main boy name_____ pulled her close, and kissed her.

_____Main girl name_____ was surprised. _____Main boy name with s at the end_____ lips were soft and warm, and he tasted like _____Favourite food or drink_____.

_____Main girl name_____ dropped the seashell. She heart the faint splash as it dropped into the water, sinking to the bottom. But she didn't care. All she care about right now was..._____Main boy name_____.

As she was about to shut her eyes, _____Main boy name_____ pulled away from her.

"I'm...I'm really sorry!" he said, gasping. "I just...had to do that!"

_____Main girl name_____ smiled gently. "If you didn't do it," she said softly, "I would have done it, anyway."

_____Main boy name_____ was surprised. "So...that means you like me too?"

"No doubt," _____Main girl name_____ nodded, smiling.

This time, it was _____Main girl name_____ who leant in. As her lips touched _____Main boy name with s at the end_____, she parted her lips gently, and she put one hand behind _____Main boy name with s at the end_____ head, and the other on the line of his jawbone. She was floating. High up above planet earth, amongst the beautiful, twinkling stars like thousands of Christmas lights.

How she wished that feeling would stay with her forever.

And it did.
