More stories at WordBlanks.com

Casper Spellings, The Animal Kid

1. Animal Noun _____
2. Place Noun _____
3. Animal Noun _____
4. Proper Person Noun _____
5. Animal Noun _____
6. Animal Noun _____
7. Noun - Plural _____
8. Clothing Noun _____
9. Animal Noun _____
10. Clothing Noun _____
11. Animal Noun _____
12. Clothing Noun _____
13. Animal Noun _____
14. Proper Person Noun _____
15. Proper Person Noun _____
16. Proper School Noun _____
17. Noun _____
18. Noun _____
19. Proper Place Noun _____
20. Proper Person Noun _____
21. Proper Person Noun _____
22. Proper Place Noun _____
23. Clothing Noun _____

24. Clothing Noun _____

Casper Spellings, The Animal Kid

Casper Spellings was a kid unlike any other kid. He had a pet _____Animal Noun_____ that liked to sleep in _____Place Noun_____, a _____Animal Noun_____ named _____Proper Person Noun_____, the tiniest _____Animal Noun_____ you've ever seen, and a big, lazy _____Animal Noun_____ that ate _____Noun - Plural_____ for breakfast.

Yes, Casper Spellings was what we call an animal person. In fact, he was SO much an animal person that he wore _____Clothing Noun_____ with _____Animal Noun_____ on them, _____Clothing Noun_____ with _____Animal Noun_____ on them, and _____Clothing Noun_____ with _____Animal Noun_____ on them.

Whenever Casper went walking by, people stopped and stared. _____Proper Person Noun_____ would say, "There goes the animal boy!" _____Proper Person Noun_____ would say, "Oh, look, it's Casper the Cat, Koala, Kangaroo, and every other animal lover!

Casper didn't mind. He loved animals and he didn't mind everyone know it. That is, until he got to second grade at _____Proper School Noun_____. His classmates there decided that it wasn't cool to love animals so much. So, they made fun of him.

Casper felt sad. He hid beside _____Noun_____, underneath _____Noun_____, and even in _____Proper Place Noun_____. But nothing made him feel better. Then, one day, he had an idea.

The

next day, there were colorful invitations on everyone's desks, even _____Proper Person Noun_____ and _____Proper Person Noun_____ desks, the meanest kids in the class. They opened their envelopes carefully. They had been invited for a special show at _____Proper Place Noun_____ the next day at 4pm! What could it mean?

The next day at 4pm all the kids from the third grade class gathered at the chosen spot. All they could see was a large red and white striped tent. Suddenly, Casper appeared, dressed in all in black, even his _____Clothing Noun_____ and _____Clothing Noun_____ were black!

"Let the circus begin!" Casper yelled! The third graders watched in amazement as Casper led all his pets out from the tent. They watched for two hours as the animals performed different tricks and stunts. The kids were speechless.

After the day at the Casper's circus, no one ever made fun of Casper again for loving animals. In fact, they loved animals now, too.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.