REading strategy

When you read a text, you read it through the _____ Noun of your own experience. Your understanding of the words on the page and their significance is informed by what you have come to _____ Verb and value from living in a particular time and place. But the texts you read were all written in the past, _____ Adverb in a radically different time and place. To read _____ Adverb, you need to contextualize, to recognize the differences between your contemporary values and attitudes and those represented in the text.
