The Funniest Invention Ever!

This is the story of the _____Adjective_____ inventor Dr. Ernie Quagmire. Dr. Quagmire had an assistant-Lizardo. He was an iguana. Unfortunately, Lizardo was a _____Adjective_____ iguana. Dr. Quagmire tried EVERYTHING to make Lizardo happy but nothing worked. He tried using _____Adjective_____ flies with _____Adjective_____ ballet skirts-nothing, no even a smile. He tried playing Weird Al songs on his ipad. Lizardo just waddled away, still frowning. Dr. Quagmire had an idea! He asked the _____Adjective_____ students at Big Brain Elementary School to create an invention to make Lizardo laugh. The students in Mr. Wiggin's class agreed to create an invention to help Lizardo. They spent three weeks creating a really _____Adjective_____ invention with lots of colours, lots of moving parts and lots of silly noises that they hoped Lizardo would like. Mr. Wiggins and his class went to Dr. Quagmire's lab to show him and Lizardo their invention. Dr. Quagmire was very excited and said "Thank you students for your ideas and hard work! I think Lizardo will LOVE it!" One of the students counted down "5,4,3,2 ,1!" and another student pushed the START button. Everyone waited to see if Lizardo would cheer up. First, he seemed very bored. After a few minutes, Lizardo began to smile. Then, he couldn't help but laugh!!!! When he saw the hamsters doing the Hamster Dance with glittery jackets and funky sunglasses, Lizardo laughed louder than he ever had before! "Yahoo!!!" everyone shouted. Dr. Quagmire said "Thank you again , everyone. Lizardo is FINALLY happy again, thanks to you". All the students high-fived each other. Lizardo continues to giggle. " Um, students, I have another job for you. I have an elephant that cannot stop hiccupping...Any ideas?"
