It was April first and my wife knew that I hated April fools. I woke up to people shuffling all around in my home. Soon the _____Noun_____ busted in my room and grabbed my wife. They yanked her out of our bed and took her down stairs. Followed them and screamed trying to figure out the problem. They told me that my wife was supposed to go to court a month ago and now they are forcing her to . Now we're here with our two _____Noun_____. I am trying to keep them calm because they are _____Verb - Past Tense_____. Soon the _____Noun_____ came and he stood in front of us. He yelled "All rise". We rose up. Then he said the dumbest thing I have ever hear "APRIL FOOLS BLAKE". My children, wife, the _____Noun_____, the _____Noun_____, everyone laughed like this was a joke. I looked around and walked out. That was the end of our marriage.
