How to Pass Time During Long Car Rides

Noun
Verb
Plural Noun
Plural Noun
Verb
Plural Noun
Noun
Noun
Verb Ending In Ing
Verb
Noun
Noun
Verb
Noun
Verb Ending In Ing
Plural Noun
Adjective
Verb
Part Of Body
Part Of Body
Noun
Noun
Number

24.	Plural Noun
25.	Adjective
26.	Plural Noun
27.	Verb Ending In Ing
28.	Part Of Body
29.	Adjective
30.	Noun
31.	Plural Noun
32.	Noun
33.	Plural Noun
34.	Location

How to Pass Time During Long Car Rides

Introduction

Everyone loves a road trip. You roll down theto feel the breeze in your hair, turn up the radio t your favorite song andevery word. Then it starts to rain and up go theelural noun Your station has lost signal and now you have just been detoured to who knows where. Here are a few tips to help make your road trip something to remember, instead of something you want to forget.
Instructions
Difficulty: Easy
Things You'll Need

Plural noun
<sup>k</sup> CDs
* Car radio or satellite radio
* Books and magazines
* Snacks and drinks
* Trash bags
* Crossword puzzles or word searches
* Pens or pencils

Step One
to the radio. Satellite radio is excellent for long road trips because you won't lose signal as you move from territory to territory and it offers a huge variety of music and talk.
Step Two
Bring your favorite maybe even some of your not-so-favorite CDs, depending on how long theride is going to be.
Step Three

Read

a Noun or magazine. Make sure you are able to tolerate reading and Verb ending in ing in a moving vehicle at the same time. You might even want to bring a book or brochure about your destination and read aloud to the driver. A long car ride also provides an opportunity to work on crossword puzzles, word searches or Sudoku.
Step Four
a DVD. Whether you have a DVD player built right into your vehicle, or you bring a portable player with you, movies definitely help to pass the time. If you have a good you can also watch movies on a laptop Noun.
Step Five
Take naps. You don't want tothe entire trip because after all getting there is half the Plus, if you'rethe whole time the poor driver is bored out of his mind and could even fall asleep himself.

Grand Gira
Step Six
Snack on foods that don't make a big messor other dry foods are your best bet. You don't want to eat anything that can stain the upholstery or anything with aodor. Be sure to limit your drink intake otherwise you will be stopping for a restroom break every few miles, making your trip even longer.
Step Seven
·
Play games. 'I Spy' is an old classic that just about everyone knows how to play.
Step Eight
drivers

every couple of hours. This way everybody can get a chance to take a nap, watch a movie or read. Keeping one driver the entire trip is great for the passenger, but think of that poor soul behind the wheel for hours upon end, not able to put up theiror rest theiror rest their Tips & Warnings
* Try to determine how long you are going to be in theand be sure to account for possible areas, accidents and other delays. Plan accordingly. If you're only going to be in the car a few hours, you probably don't need you entire collection ofCDs and DVDs.
* Drive-throughare going to save you a lot of time if you are in a hurry to arrive at your destination. Be sure to bring a couple trash bags with you.
* Dressfor your road trip. You don't want to be cramped in what seems like the tiniest car in the world while wearing your tightest pair of blue

* Wear shoes that are easy to slip on and off. Even though you are	Verb ending in ing	most of the time, somehow yourwill get tired. You don't want to have	to mess with sh	oelaces every time you want your feet to breathe a little.
* If you are the driver and you feel even the slightest bit	pull over, ge	et out of the car ( preferably not on the side of the road though), stretch and switch drivers	s for a while. If	you're traveling alone, it's best to splurge for a hotel room for the night instead of risking falling as	sleep on the	Noun * Never try to watchor read, for even a moment, if yo	ou are behind th	e wheel. A split second is all it takes for your car to veer off the road or into oncoming	· * Never drink alcoholic beverages to occupy your time. It's dangerous a	nd illegal. You	don't want to spend your vacation behind Plural noun or in the Location.
•		