More stories at WordBlanks.com

Peggy's birthday letter

1. Noun _____
2. Number _____
3. Plural Noun _____
4. Past Tense Verb _____
5. Noun _____
6. First Name _____
7. Noun _____
8. Past Tense Verb _____
9. Adjective _____
10. Past Tense Verb _____
11. Plural Noun _____
12. Plural Noun _____
13. Noun _____
14. Body Part _____

Peggy's birthday letter

Dear Friends and Family,

Today is my 55th birthday and the other day I looked in my _____Noun_____and said, "Self, you don't look a day over _____Number_____; _____Plural noun_____don't lie.

It has been a very exciting year. In March I had an epiphany and _____Past tense verb_____my _____Noun_____. It felt so free to not have to worry about all that unruly hair. My husband said it felt like he was married to _____First name_____from the Three Stooges.

In May we learned we needed to move to Texas or my husband Gary would lose his _____Noun_____and we would be _____Past tense verb_____.

We sold our condo and left for the Lone Star State in August. Leaving California and going to live somewhere else was very _____Adjective_____for me to handle and I admit I _____Past tense verb_____a few times on the road.

On our way we stopped in Las Vegas so I could visit Margie and her two _____Plural noun_____and we had a great time visiting.

Unfortunately Gary and I lost a lot of money playing _____Plural noun_____. When will we learn.

We stopped in Winslow AZ for a photo opp. Here I am standing on a _____Noun_____just like the song says.

When we got to Albuquerque I wanted to crank call the Unsers and tell them to smell my _____Body part_____but I chickened out.

Now we are here in San Antonio where the weather can be a bit hot at times.

We are hoping to move into our new house pretty soon and I went over there this week and the builders let me screw in a few nails so I could say I helped build the house.

My mother Lucy just turned 90 and she is still in the Armenian home with all the other old people.

My brother Dick is awaiting word on his kidney transplant. My niece Nicole is late on the rent as usual. Aaron now has a masters degree in business. I am very proud of him.

That's about it gange. I am another year old but certainly not wiser.

Love Peg.

©2024 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.