the jungle adventure

I was traveling through the environment Jungle, tundra, ect. wear a adjective color jacket, but i was vacillating on whether i should continue my adventure on looking for the rare Animal or head back to a place . My partner name was declined on continuing this adventure because a man/women that we met during our journey told her that animal(plural) in this jungle could eat he/she alive. Then i suddenly felt a pang in my body part gazed down to see my partner verb ending in -ING down on it with her body part. We bickered on this subject for a while and finally decided to go our separate ways. I gave her a few tokens to get back home and continued on my way.
