I am walking my iguana

I am walking

with my _____ Animal

I am _____
Verb ending in ing

with my _____
Animal

When the temperature rises to above eighty-five,

my iguana is looking

like

heâ??s coming alive.

So we make it to the _____ Location

my _____ Animal and me,

then he sits on my shoulder as we stroll by the sea. . .

and I am walking

with my iguana

Well if anyone sees us

we are a big surprise,

my iguana and me

on our daily exercise,

till somebody phones

the local police

says I have got an alligator tied to a leash.

when I am walking

with my iguana

I am walking

with my iguana

It is the spines on his back that make him look grim, but he just loves to be tickled under his chin.

And I know that my iguana

is ready for bed

when he puts on his pyjamas and lays down his sleepy head.

And I am walking

with my iguana

still walking

with my iguana

With my iguana

with my iguana

and my piranha

and my Chihuahua

and my chinchilla,

with my gorilla,

my caterpillar?;

and I am walking?!

with my iguana?!

with my iguana?!

with my iguana...
