Courtly Love

A girl was sitting on a chair at the gas station she worked at. She looked up and saw her boyfriend walk in. As he was looking at snacks, a man walked in and pointed a gun at her. He had been admiring her ring her boyfriend had given to her as a token of his love. When he asked her to give it to him, she said no. Her boyfriend looked up just in time to see her shot. He ran over to the killer and beat him over the head with a hammer that was for sale. Then he ran and called 911. When the ambulance came, he was sobbing uncontrollably near his _____Noun_____ doctor _____Noun_____over _____Noun_____felt for her pulse. _____Noun_____he stood _____Noun_____and said she was _____Noun_____alive. Later at the hospital, as he was _____Noun_____beside her, he asked"Why didn't you just give _____Noun_____the ring?"; and then she softly spoke"Because when you gave it to me, you said it was part of your love for me and I knew if I gave him the ring, I would lose that love."; The next day, she was pronounced dead.
