Courtly Love Story

A girl named Kayla was sitting on a chair at the gas station she worked at. She looked up and saw her boyfriend Michael happily walk in. As he was looking at tasteful snacks, a man named Kevin walked in. He had been admiring the ring her boyfriend had given to her as a token of his love. When Kevin asked her to give it to him, she said no. _____Noun_____immediately pulled out a gun crying for her affection because he has wanted her love but she was devoted to another man. Michael looked up just in time to see her getting shot. Kevin then shot a bullet through his head and died instantly. She lay coldly and lifelessly on the floor. He ran over to the _____Noun_____ Kevin, and beat him over the head with a hammer that was for sale on the rack next to him. Then he ran and called 911. Sweat dripped from his face. When the ambulance came, Michael was sobbing uncontrollably near Kayla. The doctor came over and felt for her pulse. Then he stood up and said she was still alive. A _____Noun_____feeling of relief came over Michael. Later at the hospital, as he was sitting beside her, he asked "Why didn't you just give him the ring?"; and then she softly spoke "Because when you gave it to me, you said it was part of your love for me and I knew if I gave him the ring, I would lose that love."; The next day, she was pronounced dead.
