Word Wall

1. Noun _____
2. Verb _____
3. Noun _____
4. Noun _____
5. Adjective _____
6. Adjective _____
7. Noun _____
8. Verb _____
9. Adjective _____
10. Adjective _____
11. Verb Ending In Ing _____
12. Noun _____
13. Past Tense Verb _____
14. Adjective _____
15. Noun _____
16. Noun _____
17. Adjective _____
18. Adjective _____
19. Past Tense Verb _____

Word Wall

There once was a boy named Stephen. Stephen found himself in a _____Noun_____ because he had to _____Verb_____ a police officer in a play for school, and he felt a sense of _____Noun_____. Sthephen knew all of the _____Noun_____ about cops and that many of them were _____Adjective_____ toward that profession. Given his knowledge he wanted to be _____Adjective_____ in the way he approached his _____Noun_____ of a police officer so that he would not _____Verb_____ these people. He began a _____Adjective_____ search for _____Adjective_____ websites online to figure out the facts about cops so that he would not end up _____Verb ending in ing_____ them in the play.

After looking at every _____Noun_____ he began to realize that cops are people who should be _____Past tense verb_____

. Then Stephen began to write his lines for the play, trying to make them as _____Adjective_____ as possible. When he went to the next rehearsal a _____Noun_____ sparked. The teacher opposed Stephen's choice to _____Noun_____ the police in an _____Adjective_____ way because that part was supposed to bring comedy to the play. Stephen felt

_____Adjective_____ because the play was tomorrow and he didn't want to change his character, so he decided he would stick to it. The crowd at the play was _____Past tense verb_____ by Stephen's character and gave him a standing ovation for his performance.