

Word Wall

1. Noun
2. Verb
3. Noun
4. Noun
5. Adjective
6. Adjective
7. Noun
8. Verb
9. Adjective
10. Adjective
11. Verb Ending In Ing
12. Noun
13. Past Tense Verb
14. Adjective
15. Noun
16. Past Tense Verb
17. Verb
18. Adjective
19. Adjective
20. Past Tense Verb
21. Verb Ending In Ing

Word Wall

There once was a boy named Stephen. Stephen found himself in _____ Noun _____ because he hat to _____ Verb _____ a police officer in a play for school, and he felt a sense of _____ Noun _____. Stephen knew all of the _____ Noun _____ about cops (they like to eat doughnuts) and that many of them were _____ Adjective _____ toward that profession. Given his knowledge he wanted to be _____ Adjective _____ in the way he approached his _____ Noun _____ of a police officer so that he would not _____ Verb _____ these people. He began a _____ Adjective _____ search for _____ Adjective _____ websites to figure out the facts about cops so that he would not end up _____ Verb ending in ing _____ them in the play. After looking at every _____ Noun _____ he began to realize that cops are people who should be _____ Past tense verb _____. Then Stephen began to write his lines for the play, trying to make them as _____ Adjective _____ as possible. When he went to the next rehearsal a _____ Noun _____ sparked. The teacher _____ Past tense verb _____ Stephen's choice to _____ Verb _____ the policeman in an _____ Adjective _____ way because that part was supposed to bring comedy to the play. Stephen felt _____ Adjective _____ because the play was tomorrow and he didn't want to change his character, so he decided to stick with what he wrote. The crowd was _____ Past tense verb _____ by Stephen's character and gave him a standing ovation for his performance. The teacher apologized for _____ Verb ending in ing _____ Stephen before.