More stories at WordBlanks.com

Ring Around My Finger

1. Past Tense Verb _____
2. Adjective _____
3. Adjective _____
4. Adjective _____
5. Adjective _____
6. Plural Noun _____
7. Noun _____
8. Plural Noun _____
9. Noun _____
10. Plural Noun _____
11. Plural Noun _____
12. Past Tense Verb _____
13. Verb Ending In Ing _____
14. Verb Ending In Ing _____
15. Location _____
16. Past Tense Verb _____
17. Adjective _____
18. Noun _____
19. Pc Of Scenery _____
20. Noun _____
21. Sticky Noun _____
22. Verb _____
23. Sticky Noun From Earlier _____

24. Animal _____
25. Adverb _____
26. A Place _____
27. Pc Of Scenery From Earlier _____
28. A Job Position _____
29. Adjective _____
30. Adjective _____
31. Noun _____
32. Pc Of Scenery From Earlier _____
33. Last Noun Choice _____
34. Noun _____
35. Noun _____
36. A Body Part _____
37. Past Tense Verb _____

Ring Around My Finger

I _____Past tense verb_____up Saturday morning not knowing that I would soon be off on a motorcycle ride with Caleb. (Honestly, I'm not even sure Caleb knew we were going for a motorcycle ride.) The weather had been pretty _____Adjective_____and _____Adjective_____lately, not exactly conducive to _____Adjective_____open air rides up through tea country.

Fortunately his work schedule slowed down and the weather cooperated. Well, it looked like it was going to cooperate until we were halfway to our destination and big _____Adjective_____black _____Plural noun_____loomed up in the sky. I think both of us were simultaneously bombarding heaven with prayers for _____Noun_____. Me, because I was already cold and him, well, he had ulterior _____Plural noun_____altogether.

He changed course to avoid the impending _____Noun_____and headed towards some beautiful _____Plural noun_____ _____Plural noun_____he had visited once before. We _____Past tense verb_____the bike and wandered around the lush, green fields _____Verb ending in ing_____lovely wild flowers and _____Verb ending in ing_____fresh air far from Nairobi smells and sounds. But for Caleb this was just not quite the right _____Location_____and so we moved on.

Back on the bike we _____Past tense verb_____an _____Adjective_____ hand painted _____Noun_____announcing a _____Pc of scenery_____overlook picnic area dating back to 1963. We turned down the _____Noun_____and proceeded to get bogged down in _____Sticky noun_____. Still hopeful, Caleb parks the bike and declares that we are going to _____Verb_____the rest of the way!

Tromping through _____Sticky noun from earlier_____(ok it wasn't really that bad) we encountered some _____Animal_____ a monster, male Ridgeback and his black lab companion. _____Adverb_____they were a type of behavior and barely gave us a second glance.

A few more paces and we reached the Khalid _____A place_____Farm. A bit confused as to where the _____Pc of scenery from earlier_____was actually supposed to be we inquired from the non-English speaking Kenyan _____A job position_____. He pointed us onward and we followed a _____Adjective_____ grassy path down towards the sound of _____Adjective_____Noun_____.

One wrong turn later we reached the _____Pc of scenery from earlier_____and boy was it ever stunning! The _____Last noun choice_____was cascading down a sheer rock face that was covered in vines and small, purplish _____Noun_____. Upon descending the stairs we saw a gorgeous _____Noun_____in the mist.

After a number of photos, he paused the photo op dropped to one _____A body part_____and declared he had an important question to ask me while he pulled the noun from his pocket. His "Will you marry me?" was followed by an adamant "Yes, of course!"

. in the end I _____Past tense verb_____away having seen the promise of God in a rainbow feeling truly blessed and loved. (Oh and with a shiny, beautiful ring on my finger!)

.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.