How to Treat Achondroplasia

To treat _____ you will need to do so early on in your life. If both of your parents have the disorder, you have a _____ chance of getting it too, so if your _____ were smart they would probably go through _____ counseling to make sure you have a _____ chance of getting it. If you chose to _____ in _____ counseling, you would consult with your _____ about _____ and then if they tell you that you are eligible to be _____ then you would be tested to see how to prevent the _____. If you are not interested in _____ counseling then you should go in to the doctor for diagnosis or _____ changes for your _____ before _____. This will _____ change your _____ to not have the achondroplasia genes, which give your baby the disorder. Both of these _____ are not guaranteed to work since after all _____ is usually the formation of a _____ mutation that shows up _____. Therefore there is no specific treatment to cure somebody from achondroplasia.
