Avalanches!

Anis a large mass of snow that goes at a veryspeed down a slope or mountain slide. It is often fatal, and causes overdeaths annually, and the deathsevery year. is also referred as a powder cloud or a big powder of snow. There aremain types of avalanche: a dry snow avalanche, a wet snow avalanche, and a slab avalanche. Most avalanches occur because the conditions make the snow on a mountain or slope uneasy, causing it to fall, then creating a avalanche.
