When the hen ate Tristan

There was once an Adjective boy named First name who lived in Location. He had absolutely no Animal plural and no Verb ending in ing. But he had a pet Animal plural. The Animal plural hated him so much that one day she decided to eat him. While First name was sitting on his favourite Noun his Animal plural barged in and Verb him up. That was the Adjective time anyone saw the Adjective boy named First name First name had a Adjective wife who was very Adjective that he was dead but only she knew that she was Verb ending in ing because she had trained the Animal plural to eat Animal plural up!!! So now everybody is very very very very Adjective But First name wife does not know that she will also be Verb up!
