The Adventures of Middle C

One day Middle C was An accidental. He was bummed out because he never got to leave his play yard.

When his friends came to visit him, everything was fine. They'd run Tempo jump Tempo and sing Dynamics. He had all kinds of friends. Note value Note value and even Note value would come over to play with him. When they left, though, he felt An accidental because they all got to go back and play on the Bass or treble staff together, but he was left alone in his Dynamics play yard. Then one day, he learned about becoming part of a chord. From that day forward, whenever Middle C wanted to play play, he could find some of them and attach to them to make a chord.

Sometimes they'd be a Legato/staccato chord, sometimes a Note value chord, but the point was, he was with friends and life was Legato/staccato.
