The Beach

Hooray! Summer is finally here, and that means we can go to the beach! Today, my family is taking a trip to

_____ City or Town Beach. I decided to invite _____ Friend, whom is my best friend, since I can bring a friend with me. I know _____ Same Friend will want to go with us. She thinks going to the beach is _____ Adjective!

We start our beach day by watching the sunrise, and then eating breakfast out at Uncle _____ Male 's Pancake House. I always get _____ Food (singular) flavored pancakes. After breakfast we _____ Present Tense Verb the waves, go _____ Verb Ending With -ing for seashells, and _____ Present Tense Verb a sandcastle. But dont forget your sunscreen, the _____ Noun is blistering hot during the day. Then we eat the lunch we packed for the beach. It's my favorite _____ Food (singular) sandwiches. The only time _____ Food (singular) sandwiches are not so _____ Adjective is when you drop them in the sand.

By _____ Time, everyone's had enough of the beach. But _____ City or Town Beach is fun at night, too! There is a really _____ Adjective boardwalk, which is always crowded with people. Would you believe we saw my teacher _____ Your Teacher there, eating a huge banana split? There are a lot of cool shops on the boardwalk.

You can find anything from a little hermit crab, cotton candy, to the typical tourist tee shirt! The boardwalk also has many rides for all ages. My favorite ride is the _____ Adjective _____ Amusement Ride with the loop de loop and steep drops. It is considered the great scream machine. After _____ Verb Ending With -ing till we drop,

_____ Verb Ending With -ing our faces with _____ Food (singular) and ice cream, and riding all the rides, we've had enough of the boardwalk essentials. By _____ Time, we're all ready to head home. As I look out the car window, passing by all the _____ City or Town landmarks I wish I could stay, but I know well be back sometime soon.

I usually fall asleep on the ride home. I can't wait to go to _____ Beach again.
