Joshua and Amy

Once upon a time there was a girl with _____color_____, curly hair who walked into Kaldi's coffee shop never expecting that her life would never be the same. The night ushered a _____Adjective_____, handsome young man, Joshua, who noticed Amy and knew that he wanted to pursue her. They, along with their group, began playing a game called "_____Name of a Game_____." The question was, "If Joshua were an item on a desk, what would he be?" Amy chose "dying house plant." And so began the saga in which Joshua determined to prove to Amy that he was not, in fact, a dying house plant.

Many months passed until one day, Joshua asked Amy out to _____Beverage_____. Amy said "yes," but changed her mind just a few minutes later. You see, Amy did not think that she liked Joshua in a romantic way. But soon after that, Joshua and Amy went on a mission trip together and Amy began to see sides of Joshua that she had never seen before. While Joshua was on another mission trip to _____Country_____, Amy wrote him because her heart had changed, and she was really hoping that he would ask her out again. One Sunday afternoon, Joshua was returning _____A Object_____ that Amy had left at his house, and said, "Amy, would you like to go on a date with me?" Full of eagerness that she not miss the boat again, Amy gave an _____Adjective_____, "YES!"

After this came _____Things done on a Date_____ in the park. Joshua told Amy that he loved her and wanted to marry her someday. Amy was overjoyed! More months passed, and the weather got _____Noun_____. One Tuesday afternoon, Amy opened her car and was greeted by _____Number_____ pink roses and a note inviting her to dinner that night. Amy's heart skipped a beat. Joshua came to pick her up at_____Time of Day_____ and they dined at a Chinese restaurant, followed by dessert at "The Fountain" on _____Insect_____ Street. The final destination was the _____St Louis Attraction_____. Joshua took out a sixpage _____Noun_____, which he read to a _____Adjective_____ Amy. He pulled out a beautiful _____Noun_____ and, on his _____A Body Part_____, asked her if she would accept it and be his wife someday. It was raining slightly, but to Amy the weather seemed like _____Noun_____ and _____Noun - Plural_____. As she said yes, her heart was filled with thankfulness.
