The spooky x-box

Once upon a time there was a Adjective person named Bob Will. He madly wanted a x-box, but his Noun would not let him buy one. But one day he wished so hard that suddenly a x-box fell right out of the sky and hit him on the head but it rebounded off his head and he could not find it. Later, Bob went trying to find the xbox in the large, green park. He saw a large, Adjective glow in a ginormous bush so he went to try and discover what it was. As he got closer, he found the xbox was on even though there were no power cords. This was very spooky. He took the xbox home. When he got home, he could not Verb it to the TV. Suddenly, a brand new TV popped out of the xbox console. On his amazing xbox, Bob started to play Halo Reach. When he started playing though, a scary, big Adjective guy climbed slowly out of the screen. Bob was Verb - Past Participle. He continued to play and found a Adjective guy! This guy then out of the xbox as well. The two characters began fighting violently in his living room, destroying everything! Bob ran quickly to his room and closed the door. He returned to where the xbox first fell from the sky and threw the xbox back to where it came from.
