The Adventure of a Random Dude

Once upon a time there was a random dude named Franklin. So maybe he wasn't so random. He liked to read about olives, they were his favorite. Then one day a unicorn came and ate cherries. Franklin was astounded! He stuffed some olives in his mouth to pass the time while humming the Number. He soon fell asleep on his bed of olive boxes. When he woke up there was a freaky moldy leaf floating above his head. He screamed like a girl and threw a stick at it. The leaf started to cry, but Franklin didn't stick around to hear the rest. He climbed a Plant and yodeled to his heart's content. And then he jumped off the Plant and fell 8 cm to his doom. Except it wasn't his doom. He lived and Noun his Animal did his business he was so happy. The End.
