Conspiracy 282-316-Kate

Being in love with someone sometimes means you wont initially marry them. With Sounis and _____Proper Noun_____, this was the case. Sounis had sworn his loyalties to Eugenides _____Conjunction_____ was going to marry Eddis. There the problems occur. Sounis could not swear loyalties to both countries without _____Verb - Present ends in ING_____ them, therefore making his loyalties toward his wife comprised. This could create several _____Adjective_____ problems including possible war between husband and wife because Sounis gave valuable resources to Attolis instead of to Eddis. The only solution to this problem would be that Sounis ruled both Sounis and Eddis. Sounis loved Eddis so much that he couldnt bear to take Eddiss power away from her so he wasnt going _____Preposition_____ marry Eddis at all. Eddis, on the other hand, loved Sounis so much that _____Pronoun_____ didnt care that she wouldnt control Eddis anymore. They had a disagreement, in which Sounis _____Adverb_____ hurt Eddiss feelings. In the end, however, Eddis managed to convince Sounis to still marry her. _____Interjection_____! It has some unexpected consequences that involve wanting someone to disengage with the person they love.
