1000 Years 49-70 AA

It's the things you cannot control that hurt the most. By now Elli along with the hundreds of other Jews are _____ Adjective and don't know what will come next. The Hungarian guards are tough to read, _____ Conjunction when they collect everyone's important papers, books, and notebooks they tell the people they will get _____ Pronoun back soon. Elli thinks fast and hides her precious notebook with all her poems, in her shirt. _____ interjection! When she turns around there was a massive fire set to all the paper which people had gave them, and everyone was devastated. Then it was all in a flash, Elli and her family had packed to go away somewhere, wherever the Hungarian guards were taking them. The process of liquidation was taking place, and they were being handed off to the _____ Noun - Plural. Elli explains how the Germans are much worse than living in the ghetto, because all they do is _____ Adverb order you around and they have no mercy for the Jews . _____ Proper Noun is even more scared of what the Germans will do to her and her family, and there is a great amount of questions the Jews are asking that are soon to be answered. Some people can only hope their life doesn't end because of something they cannot change.
