A Day in the Life of a Trustee

Yesterday, Trustee Tabitha had a busy _____Noun_____. She woke up, got dressed in her favorite blue pants and headed to the local clinic where she worked as a nurse. While at work, the lights stopped working. When no one knew what to do, Tabitha changed out the light bulbs. The lights came back on! After work, Tabitha went snow-boarding with her family. What a disaster! Chewbacca, her husband, forgot his shoes, and John and Susan, her children, forgot their hats. As Tabitha went to the Board Meeting, she thought about what a day it had been! As she listened to everyone talk, Tabitha had an idea. She was sure it would make everyone's day better. "As trustee," she said. "I will make sure there is always ice cream in Frederick!"
