The Love Story

Once upon a time there was boy who loved Animal (plural) and girl who loved to dress in a article of clothing. Adjective boy lived in a place and the girl lived in a place. Little did they know that their Part of Body would cross one day...

The girl went to school and soon realized that she loved to Verb - Base Form. To do this, she quickly became proficient in sport. Quick foot work was imperative!

The boy wanted to be a profession. He loved part of a body plural and soon realized he was very good at Event. He always dreamt about being a profession though, and soon gave up on his natural aptitude to pursue his dreams!

As life went on, The boy became a man and the girl became, well, a woman...they lived life to the fullest. The girl went on a ship where she learned to be a profession. She traveled the world meeting many amazing Animal (plural)...but somehow, she knew there was something Adjective for her.

The boy moved to place where he invested his entire career in becoming a entrepreneur. He loved the West Coast.

Soon, the girl moved West to pursue her dreams.

One day in a a place, they met and the rest is history!
