World War 1

I was _____ Verb - Present Tense in the Battle of Sheikh Sa'ad against the Ottoman empire. I was a _____ Noun in the _____ Adjective army. It was really _____ Verb - Present Tense. People were laying down with _____ Noun pouring all over the place. I was thinking that I should _____ Verb. So, I did. I _____ Verb - Past Tense to the Hanna defile, which, in retrospect, wasn't my best decision. After 14 days of Survival of the fittest, I heard the Ottomans coming. So, I _____ Verb - Past Tense away on the opposite direction. The _____ Proper Noun found me, and told me to _____ Verb in the battle. I _____ Verb - Past Tense, reluctantly. Like all the battles, _____ Noun was pouring all over the place. I got _____ Verb - Past Participle twice. Then, I saw something that I may be hallucinating. I saw a _____ Noun, with _____ Adjective wings and a _____ Noun tail. It _____ Verb - Past Tense our army from the Ottomans, and it _____ Verb - Past Tense away the Ottomans, giving us the victory. I was happy, and then everything went black.
