Cinderella

Once upon a Noun there lived an Adjective young Noun. Her Noun was Adjective and her Noun had Verb - Past Participle a widow with Number Noun - Plural. Her Noun didn't like her one Adjective bit. All her Noun thoughts and Adjective touches were for her own Noun - Plural. Nothing was too good for them - Noun - Plural, Noun - Plural, Adjective food, Adjective beds, and Determiner home Noun.

But, for the poor Noun girl, there was nothing at all. No Noun - Plural, only her Noun - Plural. No lovely Noun - Plural, nothing but Noun - Plural. No rest and no Noun. She had to work hard all day. Only when evening came was she Verb - Past Tense to sit for a while by the Noun, near the Noun - Plural. That's why everybody called her Proper Noun.

Verb - Past Tense used to spend long hours all alone to to the cat. The cat said, . Miaow. , which really Verb - Past Tense, . Cheer up! You have something neither of your Noun - Plural has and that is Noun.. It was quite Adjective. Proper Noun, even Verb - Past Participle in old Noun - Plural, was a Adjective Noun. While her Noun - Plural, no matter how splendid and Adjective their Noun - Plural, were still Adjective, Adjective and Adjective and always would be.

One day, Adjective new Verb - Past Tense Preposition or subordinating conjunction at the house. A ball was to be held at the palace and the stepsisters were getting ready to go. Cinderella didn't even dare ask if she could go too. She Verb - Past Tense very well what the answer would be: . You? You're staying at home to wash the Noun - Plural, Verb the floors and turn down the beds for your Noun - Plural. They will come home tired and very Adjective.. Proper Noun sighed, . Oh Interjection, I'm so Adjective!. and the cat Verb - Past Tense . Miaow..

Suddenly something amazing happened. As Proper Noun was sitting all alone, there was a burst of light and a Noun appeared. . Don't be Verb - Past Participle, Proper Noun,. said the Noun. . I know you would love to go to the ball. And so you shall!. . How can I, Verb - Past Participle in rags?. Proper Noun replied. . The Noun - Plural will turn me away!.

The fairy smiled. With a flick of her magic wand Cinderella found herself wearing the most Adjective Noun she had ever seen. . Now for your coach,. said the fairy; "A real lady would never go to a Noun on Noun! Quick! Get me a Noun!. . Oh of course,. said Proper Noun, rushing away. Then the fairy turned to the cat. . You, bring me seven Noun - Plural, and, remember they must be alive!

Adverb soon returned with the pumpkin and the cat with seven mice he had caught in the cellar. With a flick of the magic wand the pumpkin turned into a sparkling coach and the mice became six white Noun - Plural, while the seventh mouse turned into a Noun in a smart Noun and Verb - Present Tense a Noun. Proper Noun could hardly believe her Noun - Plural.

Verb - Past Tense had a wonderful time at the Preposition or subordinating conjunction until she heard the first Preposition or subordinating conjunction of midnight! She remembered what the Noun had said, and without a Noun of goodbye she slipped from the Proper Noun. s Noun - Plural and ran down the steps. As she ran she lost one of her slippers, but not for a moment did she dream of stopping to pick it up! If the Adjective Noun of midnight were to sound... oh... what a Noun that would be! Out she fled and vanished into the night.

The Prince, who was now madly in Preposition or subordinating conjunction with her, picked up the slipper and said to his ministers, "Go and search everywhere for the girl whose foot this Noun - Plural fits. I will never be content until I find her!"

So the ministers tried the Determiner on the Determiner of Determiner Determiner in the land until only Verb - Past Participle was left.

That awful untidy Verb simply cannot have been at the ball,. snapped the stepmother. . Tell the Prince he ought to marry one of my two Noun - Plural! Can't you see how Adjective Proper Noun is ? . But, to everyone. s amazement, the shoe fitted perfectly.

Suddenly the fairy appeared and waved her magic wand. In a flash, Cinderella appeared in a splendid

Noun, Verb - Present Tense with Noun and Noun. Her Noun and Noun - Plural gaped at her in Noun, and the ministers said, "Come with us Cinderella! The Proper Noun is waiting for you." So Cinderella Verb - Past Tense the Prince and lived happily ever.

As for the cat, he just said "Miaow!"
