Candy Land

One beautiful morning a Adjective girl named Name woke up. She looked around and saw that she was Verb Location. She wondered how she got there. She realized she was lying in Noun but she wasn't cold! So she got up and tasted some. It tasted like Noun Noun. She couldn't believe it! Then she suddenly realized that everything around her was Noun. She went over and saw that the Noun were candy canes and the Noun were Noun. The grass all around her tasted like candy! She walked over to a fruit tree and tasted the fruit. It tasted like candy! She ate tons and tons of it. Then she went over to the river, but wait! The river was Noun. So she took a spoon scooped up some. It was the best day of her Noun.
