Brain nerds!

_____Adverb_____ upon a time there was a poor sad man stuck in psychology class. He was trying to figure out how he was going to pass the brain test. He sucks at memorization. So he started out by labeling the lobes with colors that go along with the names of them. So for example the frontal lobe he colored _____Noun_____ so he associates fusia with frontal lobe _____Preposition or subordinating conjunction_____ the test. Now he saw brocas area.... And thought oh goodness I don't even know what this is! So what better thing to use but google to find answers. He found out that it is the ability to produce speech. So He associated broca with broken speech. To memorize the lobes, he uses the phrase franny passed out too! Franny=frontal lobe, passed= parietal lobe, occipital lobe, and temporal= too! He is feeling a lot more confident for his exam, after coming up with these tricks.
