Jeremiah

Once upon a time there was a prophet named           Proper Noun          . Many of his prophecies were related to the ultimate destruction of the           Proper Noun           people if they did not           Verb - Base Form           their ways. Some could see this as           Adjective           and seeing the glass half empty, but in reality, he provided a lot of           Adjective           to the people. He talked about those who had           Verb - Base Form           in God as ultimately gaining rewards both physical and spiritual. He said that if someone           Verb - Base Form           in and follows the           Noun           of God, they will not be           Adjective           when there is no rain, they will always have           Adjective           crops, and they will have lots of trees and agriculture around them. He tried to           Verb - Base Form           the Jews see that they needed to follow the laws of God in order to really be           Adjective           and           Adjective           and that if they did those things, they would have better lives.
