David's daily routine

David wakes up in the morning and looks at the Adjective. exclamation it's Number am and time to wake up . He goes into the Noun and stays in there for approximately Number minutes . He never goes without his Noun so he brings this also. Then he lathers up his Noun and washes off his entire Noun. He steps out onto a Adjective Noun and dried himself off with a Noun. Then he gets dressed and picks out Noun - Plural to wear. After this he goes into the Noun and makes himself a Noun with the Noun. When he is finished he decides how he will get to work and he decides to take the Noun .but it is hard to drive when you have to strap on a Noun in the back. He starts it up and it won't start. Oh crap he says I will have to take the Adjective Noun. When he gets to work all of his Noun - Plural are waiting outside for him because there seems to be a problem with the Noun. David reaches into his Noun and grabs his Noun - Plural. He tries to action but it does not work so he uses a Noun. This finally works and finally everything is back to normal.
