A mermaid in the castle

one day a           Noun           turned into a           Noun          , and had been punished not to go back to the Noun          , therefore she was sent to land with human           Noun          . As she was           Verb - Present ends in ING           in the           Noun          , she found a very           Adjective                     Noun          .
