Travel Team

Danny is now the coach and all-star player for the Noun Warriors; he started out with his little Adjective team, and has crafted it in to an unstoppable aggregation. He is picking up speed as he beats team after team, but will he make it to the playoffs? He tries to keep his team organized and proficient, with the help of his "friend", Tessa. For now, everything is going up for this little star, but it could streak downwards at the speed of light if he fails at the playoffs, although Danny and Tessa know that their team is worthy to be champions. Danny has already accomplished some of his goals, like win a game, and win against Middletown Vikings. So this season has so far been Adverb Verb - Base Form up the charts to be Danny's most successful one ever. Yeah!
