Granny's 100th Birthday Party Blast

Next Month is going to be Granny's 100th birthday. I think we should throw her a Animal themed party. She has always loved those Adjective creatures.

We could make a Noun shaped cake and Noun shaped pinata. We should probably invite her Proper noun profession - just in case things get a little too Emotion.

I called Female relative last night. She said she can't come because Name is having another dramatic short story reading. This one is going to be called Title.

But Male relative will be there and he said he might bring Name my favorite Animal. But I'm a little Emotion because he also said he's thinking about getting her a Animal. I said, "what are thinking, she isn't Number;

Do you think you could get _____ Relative_____to do dance to _____ Song_____? Last year, after _____ Number_____

drinks, it took _____ Number_____men to stop to dancing - everyone thought it was _____ Celebrity_____on the dance floor. That might be too much for Granny though, after her bout of _____ Illness_____last month.

We should have more age appropriate games...maybe _____ Name of game_____? or _____ Name of game_____? But if we do one of those we have to invite _____ Name_____.

I hope the weather is nice. Last year her birthday was

Number of degrees_____degrees and _____ Male name_____said he was going to _____ Verb_____he didn't go inside. And I don't want him inside again! It took me _____ Number_____days to clean up the room after he _____ Past tense verb_____

Maybe we shouldn't have a part - maybe we should just go to the _____ Event_____.
