

The Human with no name

1. Preposition Or Subordinating Conjunction

The Human with no name

In a forest, there was a man he claimed to himself he had no name since he didnt believe that his mother and father had named him as a child. He only had himself to deal with since he was a lone wolf since well.. pretty much since birth

He has Preposition or subordinating conjunction in the forest for most of his life with the animals that lived there.
