The New Kid.

One day, about a month ago, a strange new kid walked into Ms. _____Proper Noun_____ turbulent classroom. He had no idea how to act when he found that the Bermuda Triangle was such an electrifying group! Then he even had to do a dance in front of Mr. _____Proper Noun_____ and his class! He was certainly to getting the disposition of the whole class. He very soon modified how he acted in the wild classroom. From there things just got crazier and crazier, but he got that crazy in Ms. _____Proper Noun_____ classroom was just the normal thing to do. That is unless you get a really irascible sub who just doesn't understand the vibe of the class. Some kids are just so affable! Yet some of them are even slightly amiss. And what's really cool is that Ms. _____Proper Noun_____ never rebukes anyone unless they do something very stupid. Even the new kid is bizarre in his own way. But _____Proper Noun_____ _____Proper Noun_____! Man is she meticulous!! Anyways about the new kid, he seems to be a very avid ; not great big books, but medium sized ones. He seems to never make things very concise; but always feels impelled to do things the right way. One time, he had planned to go up to the corner store without asking because his _____Noun_____ wasn't home. Instead he waited until she got home and did the _____Adjective_____ right thing. Even if he did go without asking, I doubt his mom would have found out. He abhors from even the smallest thing. Like seeing _____Noun_____; he can't stand it! He told me about one thing that haunts his memory; the time he went backpacking and a _____Noun_____ smacked his tent. He remembers falling asleep, but then waking up and seeing this _____Noun_____ just lift up and smack his tent. He said after this happened he was so tremulous! I mean who wouldn't be?!? At first he didn't have the slightest inkling of what it might, but in the morning, he saw a _____Noun_____ crap in profusion around his tent! But after he embarked on the hike, he forgot all of it. Until he was awoken from his serene sleep! The thu thump, thu-thump, thu-thump, thu-thump. Of the _____Noun_____ paws walking towards his tent once more. This time instead of a bear, it was his dad just checking on him. He then conspired to scare his dad so bad, but that's another story.
