Let us not beseech you sir

I have but one _____^{Noun} by which my feet are guided; and that is the lamp of experience . I know of no way of _____^{Verb - Present ends in ING} of the future but by the past. And _____^{Verb - Present ends in ING} by the past, I wish to know what there has been in the conduct of the _____^{Location} ministry for the last ten years, to justify those hopes with which gentlemen have been pleased to solace themselves, and the House? Is it that _____^{Adjective} smile with which our petition has been lately received? Trust it not, sir; it will prove a snare to your feet.

_____^{Verb - Base Form} not yourselves to be betrayed with a _____^{Verb - Present ends in S}. Ask yourselves how this _____^{Adjective} reception of our petition comports with these _____^{Adjective} preparations which cover our _____^{Verb - Present ends in S} and darken our land. Are fleets and armies necessary to a work of love and reconciliation? Have we shown ourselves so _____^{Verb - Present ends in ING} to be reconciled, that force must be called in to win back our love? Let us not deceive ourselves, sir. These are the implements of war and subjugation; the last arguments to which kings resort. I ask, gentlemen, sir, what means this martial array, if its purpose be not to _____^{Verb - Base Form} us to submission? Can _____^{Noun} _____^{Verb - Present ends in ING} any other possible motive for it? Has Great Britain any _____^{Noun}, in this quarter of the _____^{Noun}, to call for all these navies and _____^{Proper Noun - Plural}? No, sir, she has none. They are meant for us; they can be meant for no other. They are sent over to _____^{Verb - Base Form} and rivet upon us those _____^{Noun} which the British ministry have been so long _____^{Verb - Present ends in ING}. And what have we to oppose to them? Shall we try _____^{Verb - Base Form}? Sir, we have been trying that for the last _____^{Number} years. Have we anything new to offer upon the subject? Nothing. We have held the _____^{Noun} up in every light of which it is capable; but it has been all in vain. Shall we resort to entreaty and humble supplication? What terms shall we find which have not been already Verb - Past Tense? Let us not, I beseech you, Full Name of a Person, deceive ourselves.
