Patrick Henry's Speech at the Virginia Convention

They tell us, Noun, that we are Adjective; unable to cope with so Adjective an Noun But when shall we be Adjective ? Will it be the next Noun, or the next ? Will it be when we are totally, and when a British guard shall be stationed in every? Shall we strength by and noun ? Shall we the means of resistance, by lying supinely on our, and hugging the delusive of hope, until our enemies shall have bound us and ? Sir, we are not if we make a proper use of those means which the God of nature hath placed in our Three millions of people, verb - Past Tense in the holy cause of
, and in such a country as that which we possess, are invincible by any force which our Noun can send against us. Besides, sir, we shall not fight our Noun-Plural alone. There is a just God who presides over the Noun-Plural of nations; and who will raise up Noun-Plural to fight ou battles for us. The battle, sir, is not to the strong alone; it is to the, the active, the Besides, sir, we have no election. If we were base enough to it, it is now too late to from the contest. There is no retreat but in and slavery!
Our are forged! Their verb - Present ends in ING may be heard on the plains of Boston! The war is inevitableand let it come! I it, sir, let it come.
