Macy Kashner- Mad Lib

One night after lacrosse practice, _____ Proper Noun _____ came home and got ready for bed. She put her _____ Adjective _____ adidas lacrosse bag into her room and left her room. Later that night, Macy walked up the stairs and got ready to go to bed. Out of the corner of her eye, she saw that her bag was open and that her _____ Noun - Plural _____ stick was missing. She remembers that she had it in there but now suddenly it wasn't there.
She spent a whole hour looking all over the house for it, but it seems to have disappeared after looking forever, she finally goes to bed. She's in the middle of sleeping and a loud tapping noise is at her bedroom door. At first she just ignored the noise and tried to fall back asleep. Five minutes later she hears the same noise. Because this time she gets up to see what was making the noise. She opens the door very slowly in case of someone is there to attack her at the door. Surprisingly, no one is at the door but she sees her lacrosse stick sitting there right at the door. Out of nowhere her lacrosse stick comes alive and she was never heard from again.
