The Lunchroom Disaster
It really was a disaster everywhere everywhere what a mess. You see it started out as a normal day sunny with some rain clouds that was at 8:00. Then it changed it was hard by 10:00. It was already a bad day I was latesome assignments and the Noun was not happy Conjunction all I could say is " interjection !". I was looking forwar to lunch or as Pronoun like to call it free time. So lunch came and then a Adjective boy stud up and through food right at me. I didn't even know and one of my friends asked who he was. A kid at another table stood up and hit back. The food verb - Base Form started food flying in every direction. "interjection!" I shouted. It was pandemonium Then it was over food on the walls and covering the floor. Preposition course I was blamed.
