Katelyn Evans-Mad Lib

I woke up fro	om a deep s	sleep to hear	all the	Noun	_ alarms in 1	ny Not	goi	ng off. I ran to	my Noun	door and	tore it open	. My first t	houghts w	ere to get ou	at of the ho	use, but wh	nich way to go?	I had no idea wher	re the	Noun - Plural	were, or	where the	e rest of my	family was.	. I kept thin	aking over and o	over if I go downsta	airs to the fi	ont door, wi	ll I be able	to get out	safely, or w	ill I be trap	ped? I fina	lly decided to g	go to the front doo	or. I	verb ran	down the	steps, faste	er than lighti	ning. I whip	pped aroun	d the corner to f	find the kitchen d	drowned in	flames. Ther	e was no w	ay to get t	to the door.	I suddenly	thought has	s anyone called	911?
WillPro	onoun Co	ome to save i	me if I get	trapped do	own here and	d can't get o	out? Ugh! I	was too late, fo	or the blue phone h	nanging on	the wall was	in flames a	along with	everything	else. I knev	v I had littl	e time to think	about my next mov	ve. The flan	nes were mo	ving closer	and close	r to the step	s. I had to g	get back up	stairs now, so I	turned around and r	ran. I barely	missed the f	flames as th	ney started	l to climb up	the railing	of the step	os. Finally I was	s safely back in my b	oedroom wi	th the door s	lammed sh	ut. I went	to the windo	ow and ripp	ed it open.	Rats! I forgot a	about having to get	t the screen	out. Finally	I just kicke	ed it out, to	earing a hole	e straight th	rough the i	middle of the sc	reen. I did not want	t to waste ar	ny more time	e. I climbed	out the w	indow on to	the porch	roof. No on	ne was anywher	e near by to help m	ne get down	. I was so hig	gh up, I sud	ldenly thou	ught about v	vhat may ha	appen if I j	ust jumped, I co	ould break my neo	ck. After lo	oking back t	o see flame	es slowly c	crawling in t	o my room	from behin	nd the door. I m	ade my final dec	cision, I had	to jump. Ter	rrified I slo	wly, caref	ully walked	to the edge	e of the slip	pery roof. I loo	ked down, closed	d my eyes a	nd pushed of	ff as hard a	s I could, I	hoping to la	nd as far av	vay from th	ne house as I co	uld.
Finally I land	ded, but it v	vas a soft lan	nding. I loo	ked aroun	d and realize	ed I was stil	ll in my bed	d, the fire alarm	is were going off, nor was the kitchen was not on fire.
