You see _____ Noun _____ was invisible to many people literally, this had interrupted _____ Noun _____ social life for many years until he met howl when he was only 6 years old, they didn't find each other just like any other set of friends, when howl was climbing on a tree spitting on people down below just as any other day of summer he spent alone. One day he missed, now as you might have guessed calsifer was sitting down below minding his own business just as any other day he spent in his whole entire life. Now as you might have guessed, the saliva that came out of howls mouth landed onto the top of calsifers head. â??What was that?â?? calsifer said. An as you might have known calsifer had blurted out something from the shock of the warm liquid coming from howls mouth, and of course after that calsifer noticed a boy who looked the same age as him was hanging from above. After that they ended up getting into a furious conversation, which in the end ended up being a friendly conversation which led to texts, chilling out together, and of course awesome parties. This ended up being a real good friendship.
