The Grammar Monster

Once, there was a _____Adjective_____ teacher names Ms. Hileman. She loved her students very much and the students loved her. In class, the students _____Verb - Past Participle_____ each other and they all excelled at their work. Ms. Hileman did all she could to protect her students from the dreaded Grammar Monster, but she knew that one day they would all meet their _____Noun_____, one by one. As the days went by in the year, Ms. Hileman grew more and more _____Adjective_____. When a student asked her what was wrong she _____Verb - Past Tense_____ and told the student she was _____Adjective_____. But she was not! She was dreading what was about to come. The very next week the Grammar Monster was coming to her class, and she knew it would be a disaster! Her _____Adjective_____ students! They would all loose interest and groan in agony over the piles and piles of worksheets the Grammar Monster leaves in its path! Her students who love to read and write will be crushed by the weight of the Grammar Monster, never to be the same again. They will see nouns and adjectives in their sleep. They will wake in the middle of the night worried about comma usage. And they will live in fear that prepositions will be waiting for them at the end of every sentence! Oh the humanity!
