Word Libs Minutes!

In the spirit of Kill the _____^{Noun}Cabinet, here are the rules we played with when we gathered in the _____^{Location} last Wednesday, modified so that you could play along as you read this, either in preparation for turnover or just to make these a little more amusing:

1. _____^{Verb} every time anyone says beer or bike.
2. _____^{noun}-stand after every agenda item / announcement.
3. _____^{verb} every time Lauren yells at someone (or I yell at/judge someone in the minutes).

Announcements!

Arya kicks cabinet off with a 19-second _____^{noun}-stand.

Charlie announces a March madness pool, which has a $5 buy-in, and the deadline for which I'm pretty sure has passed. Check your listservs, people.

Charlie does his obligatory _____-stand for 20 seconds. Way to beat Arya, Charlie.

Budget!

Joe and Margay happily announce that we are still swimming in the money thanks to their unscrupulous moving of _____funds."; Yay for having more than $4,000 and no longer being poor!

Joe protests he has to write a paper, and then does an 8-second _____-stand anyway.

Alysa wants money for pub night, which, in case you've been living under a _____ is TONIGHT at 10 p.m. We give her $1,600 for pizza and 3 _____s + a pony. Pub really is unnecessarily expensive.

Again, in case you've been living under an enormous _____ Alysa wants you to know that 3&5-man jack forms are due TODAY at 5 p.m. and that all other upperclassmen suite forms are due on Thursday. The housing draw will be on the 22nd.

Carole adds that she already emailed all the people with pretty _____ Plural noun to ask them about showing their _____ plural noun on the OC housing tour this Sunday the 20th. If she didn't contact you, but you think your _____ plural noun is still pretty enough to show off, email her.

Alysa follows the housing bonanza with a 13-second _____ noun -stand, and Carole promises she will make up for her lack of _____ noun -standing soon.

Quincy, who is standing in for Meredith, is wearing a hideous shirt. Christa's words, not mine. She says McMurtry wants to have an inter-college BBQ with us for St. Patrick's day either this Thursday or Friday and wants permission to use the commons and to pay for half of a green _____ noun. Molly launches into a story about how we should do this because Duncan thinks we're uncool. I don't see the connection. It's probably all the _____ noun _____.

Jeremy is so excited about _____ noun _____ that he does a 13-second _____ noun _____-stand for Quincy. Alysa proudly points out that she and Jeremy had the same time.

Carole and _____ Adjective _____ Jordan Bunch announce the OC campout that happened the night before Beer Bike.

If you saw a bunch of sophomores commandeering the movie room Beer Bike eve, that's why.

Carole follows with a 16-second _____ noun _____-stand, which she also announces is better than Jeremy.

Arya,

who must really like _____^{noun}_____-stands, announces there will be a Scotch tasting on the 22nd in the Master's House and he wants $350 from alcohol, which we give him. He follows this announcement with his second _____^{noun}_____-stand of the night, at 25 seconds.

The _____^{adjective}_____.Jordan Bunch emerges and announces that not only can he sing, but he will actually be _____^{Verb ending in ing}____on stage at the 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee. (FYI, this is a musical, not an actual spelling bee, as some people at cabinet thought.) Why announce an event that doesn't start for another 2 weeks? Because this is really all just an excuse for him to do a 14-second _____^{noun}_____-stand.

We close our shortest cabinet yet with a speech by Molly, who announces that while she hates being put on the spot, she loves us, and can she please just get it over with and do a _____^{noun}_____-stand?

Here's to a better show tonight.

TFW,

Jocelyn "bahahahaha turnover"; Wright.
